

They Were Losing
100 Chromebooks a Year

Now they have saved
$28000 in a school year

But behind the scenes, IT was stuck in spreadsheet chaos

No visibility. No accountability. No way to scale.

“We had separate spreadsheets for each building, and nothing matched. Data got lost. Serial numbers were wrong. We weren’t on the same page literally.”

Andy Cherrier, Director of Technology at

EZO AssetSonar changed everything

Now the team tracks 4,000+ Chromebooks, iPads, laptops, hotspots along with every location and custodian

It's accurate, automated, and built for education-scale IT.

“I used to spend over an hour checking out a device. Now it’s 15 minutes. Type in the name, location, and we’re done.”

Elizabeth Koering, Lead Technician at

EZO AssetSonar’s mobile app, QR codes, and real-time records power smarter workflows.

Zendesk x AssetSonar = Faster Repairs

Before: spreadsheets, backlogs, and confusion.

Now: tickets, repairs, and status updates in a single system.

- Repair history
- Maintenance flags
- Retire-or-reuse decisions, made on data.

“AssetSonar and Zendesk have been a huge help tracking repairs.”

Chromebook Losses Dropped 4x

Last Year:
~100 Devices
Lost

This Year:
~20 Devices
Lost

Why?
Centralized tracking
Offboarding workflows
Labeling and accountability

$28,000 saved in one school year, just on Chromebooks

“I can break things down by building, students, and usage trends. That helps us plan what to buy next, and what we don’t need anymore.”

Elizabeth Koering, Lead Technician at

St. Francis is using EZO AssetSonar to power compliance, audits, and grant reporting too.
